

1 THE TOP TEN

OUR PICK OF THE BEST SHOWS ON TV THIS WEEK...

COMIC RELIEF: FUNNY FOR MONEY (FRIDAY BBC1 & BBC2)

Lenny Henry checks out of the Premier Inn for the fundraising extravaganza, which includes a performance from those cheeky One Direction boys and Jessie J (left) shaving her lovely locks off. More on p6, 8 & 10.

2 EASTENDERS (MON, TUES, WEDS, THURS & FRI BBC1)

That Liam is turning out to be a right one, isn't he? His gang mugs poor Tam and despite him denying any involvement, Bianca smells a rat. The action builds to a six-minute episode on Comic Relief night. More on p10.

3 CALL THE MIDWIFE (SUNDAY BBC1)

It's the last in the series (sob) and there's some bad news about the convent (gasp!), but celebrations will be in order when Chummy goes into labour. Good thing there are a few midwives around to help her out.

4 DANCING ON ICE (SUNDAY ITV)

After ten weeks of skimpy costumes and scathing putdowns, Phil and Christine host the final battle of the blades. Who will win the crown? More on p17.

5 CORONATION STREET (MON, WED & FRI ITV)

While Chesney's getting ideas about proposing to Katy, all she can think about is getting into a van with Ryan for some afternoon delight. Bad girl. More on p21.

6 PRISONERS' WIVES (THURSDAY BBC1)

This arresting drama has had a makeover for series two. While Fran (second from left) and Harriet (right) return, gone are Gemma and Lou. Two new faces, tragic Kim (left) and feisty Aisling (second from right), fill the gap. More on p12.

7 MR SELFTRIDGE (SUNDAY ITV)

It's closing time at Selfridges - well, at least until series two. And with Harry struggling to control all the women in his life, and a highly stressful visit from King Edward VII in the offing, it doesn't look like he'll get that happy ending any time soon.

9 SHETLAND (SUN & MON BBC1)

"There's been a mur-der!" No, you're not in for an episode of Taggart, but a brand-new whodunnit starring Douglas Henshall as a cop returning to his native Shetland. The perfect two-part spook-fest.

8 COUNTRYFILE: A ROYAL APPOINTMENT (SUNDAY BBC1)

Prince Charles takes us for a ramble as he guest-edits the series to celebrate its 25th anniversary. John Craven, Matt Baker and Julia Bradbury interview the Prince and visit his organic farm in Gloucestershire. More on p13.

10 MASTERCHEF (TUES & WEDS BBC1)

Never mind the professional or celebrity versions, watching cooking does not get more fun than this. John Torode and Gregg Wallace kick off the first round of the original version of the culinary challenge, as five budding Blumenthals face off. One thing, though - despite losing all that weight recently, Gregg's still using a pretty big tasting spoon! More on p16.
